

Here are a couple of good websites that I recommend exploring.

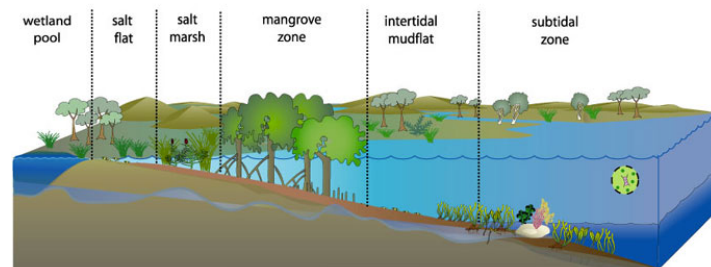

This is a nice fact sheet about estuaries:

http://www.estuarywatch.org.au/resources/What%20is%20an%20estuary\_factsheet.pdf

There is technical data and physical attribute data on each of our estuaries at this page. The estuaries are listed from north to south along the NSW coastline.

<http://www.environment.nsw.gov.au/estuaries/list.htm>

And there is a nice image on this page, which conceptually breaks down the different parts of an estuary:

http://www.ozcoasts.gov.au/conceptual\_mods/introduction.jsp